Good fun!

My granddaughters have so much fun playing with Orbeez. The youngest just turned 6 and is able to mix with water and make pets and window decorations. The older girls enjoy the bath and hand Orbeez sets.

Orbeez are fun for the kids.

Reviewed in the United States on December 10, 2015

The concept is fun but the kids didn't like it as much as I would of thought. A bit messy, I think they played more with the bowl of orbeez more than the toy itself.

not the best idea of a toy not the best idea of a toy. Lots of lost pieces means it's unrealistic that it will be an ideal gift

Cute!

The instructions were a little bit confusing to me, but once i figured out how to inject the ball, it was really fun for us to do!! And it seems like the eye stickers are re-usable! Plus, it left a lot of orbeez for us to make a well hydrated terrarium for our pet Venus fly trap!!!

Be Informed!

Reviewed in the United States on April 22, 2016

I did not realize it took a minimum of 4 hours (to preferably overnight) to hydrate the orbeez. My 9-year old granddaughter was on fire to get going with the project when she got to my house, but since it was near dinner time, with school early the next morning, we had to put it off completely until the weekend, so very disappointing. On the other hand, when we finally had time to get the orbeez to a crushable consistency, she loved the whole process. Personally, I don't get it at all, but it seems harmless, and doesn't make a huge mess. The videos on the Orbeez website are flabbergasting - it seems they are a huge hit (maybe they originated there?) in Australia, where folks seem to be devoting huge amounts of money to fill bathtubs and swimming pools for their children's enjoyment. I told my grandkids not to get any ideas...
